09/25/2024 | Insider Travel Report | Jackie Friedman on How the Host Agency Model Has Changed

How has the host model changed over the past 30 years? We asked Nexion Group President Jackie Friedman for her thoughts at the recent CoNexion conference in New Orleans earlier this month. Travel is a cyclical business, as we all have learned the hard way. While COVID hit the industry hard in 2020 and 2021, it was hardly the only time things looked bleak for travel advisors. Back in 1994, the growing power of the "information superhighway" began to usurp the role—and the revenues—of travel agents (now known as travel advisors).

09/09/2024 | AFAR | The Rules for Traveling to Europe Are About to Change

Europe is the most visited region in the world—but it will soon require a few extra steps to get there. U.S. citizens already dreaming about and plotting out their 2025 adventures across the pond should be aware that the rules for entry into the European Schengen Zone are about to change.

09/17/2024 | Conde Nast Traveler | The Best Hotels in Porto, Portugal

While Lisbon remains a favorite weekend break destination, hot on its heels is Porto; a city home to some of Portugal's best hotels, with culture aplenty, arguably the most beautiful train station in the world, and port tastings available at every wine bar on every corner. The Douro Valley, Portugal's most famous wine region, is just a two-hour scenic train ride away, while the city itself is home to the vertigo-inducing Luís Bridge (yes, you can climb it), stunning street art, and a gluttonous local dish, the francesinha sandwich.

4. Madeira, Portugal

Many travelers come to Madeira just to walk: The island's network of centuries-old levadas, or irrigation channels, have created some 1,800 miles of walking trails, much of them through verdant forests and along rugged, dramatic cliffs. Walking about town, in Funchal, is also a worthy pursuit with beloved cookie factories (Fábrica Santo António) and wine shops (legend goes that the signing of the Declaration of Independence was toasted with Madeira wine) lining the streets. The Madeira photography museum is also a must-visit, as is Bordal, one of a few remaining embroidery houses where you can see artisans at work.
